L=Luke A=Abby

L Hi, Abby, do you eat here in the cafeteria every day?
A No, not every day. I usually eat at the restaurant down the street.
L Oh, I sometimes eat there, too. What do you eat?
A I usually eat fruit for breakfast. I like bananas and apples. Do you like fruit?
L Fruit for breakfast? No, I don't like fruit, I usually eat a hamburger.
A For breakfast? You eat hamburgers for breakfast?
L Yes, I do! I love hamburgers. I eat them every day.
A Well, I sometimes eat hamburgers for lunch. But I never eat them for breakfast. What do you eat for lunch, then?
L Oh, usually hamburgers again, but I eat vegetables, too! I like vegetables.
A Really? What kind of vegetables do you like?
L I eat French fries. Those are potatoes, you know. And I eat lettuce, tomato, and onions on my hamburgers! What about you?
A I usually eat fish or chicken with rice or noodles. I like salmon and tuna. Oh, look, there's tuna on the menu today. Do you like fish?
L No, I don't like fish. I hate it, actually. And I don't like chicken, either.
A What about dinner? What kind of food do you like?
L I love Italian food. It's my favorite, so I usually eat pizza or spaghetti for dinner.
A I like Italian food, too. I have Italian food for dinner once a week.

PRONUNCIATION p. 14

T=Tara V=Vincent

T Oh, Vincent, this gym is boring. I hate exercise. How about you?
V Actually, I exercise a lot now, and I love it. I even want to run in the city marathon!
T That's great. So, how often do you exercise?
V Well, I run ten kilometers every day. I come here to the gym four times a week, and I usually do martial arts with my friends.
T Wow, that's really amazing.
V Oh, and I only eat healthy food. I eat a lot though—about four times a day. I drink a lot of water, too, and I never drink soda. How about you? What kind of food do you eat?
T Actually, I always eat healthy food, too. I eat a lot of fresh fruit and vegetables every day, and I never eat hamburgers or pizza.
V But I don't ever see you here at the gym. Do you come often?
T I try to come here once a week. I don't take any exercise classes, though. But I go swimming twice a month.
V That's good! Do you ever go running?
T No, I don't. I never go running. Is running really fun?
V Yes, it's great! Hey, why don't we go running together? I need an exercise partner.
T An exercise partner?
V You know, someone to keep fit with. So why don't we exercise together?
T Oh, that would make me exercise more … Well, I always have a lot of work in the office. But… exercising with you sounds like fun!

PRONUNCIATION p. 23

1. V I even want to run in the city marathon!

E=Evan L=Lisa

E Lisa. It's Evan. What are you doing?
L Oh, not much. It's just a boring Sunday afternoon, and I'm at home, streaming videos.
E What are you streaming?
L The soccer matches yesterday. What are you doing?
E I'm at the library.
L What are you doing at the library?
E I'm doing homework. My friend Raul is here, too.
L What's your friend doing?
E He's helping me study.
L What are you studying?
E We have homework and a test on Monday.
L We have homework? There's a test on Monday? What is the homework?
E I have a big project about Brazil, and your project is about China.
L Oh, no! I forgot!
E Lisa, what are you doing?
L I'm messaging the teacher.
E Really? What are you messaging?
L Just a minute. Dear Ms. Garcia, I am very sick ...
E Oh, Lisa! What are you thinking?

PRONUNCIATION p. 28

A=Adam T=Tom

A Hi, Tom. Why weren't you at basketball practice yesterday?
T Hi, Adam. I was at home, sorry.
A Were you sick?
T Well, I was sick, and the weather was bad.
A No you weren't. You weren't at home yesterday.
T How ... how do you know?
A I called you a lot on your phone.
T My cell phone was broken.
A But I called you on your home phone. The coach wasn't happy with you. We have a game on Saturday, and you weren't there, Tom.
T I was sick! I was probably sleeping when you called.
A Oh, come on, tell me. Where were you really?
T OK. I wasn't at home yesterday, and I wasn't really sick.
A So, where were you?
T I was at the movie theater. There were some great movies showing.
A Were you there all day?
T No, not all day. I was also at the beach.
A The beach? But the weather was terrible yesterday.
T Yeah, it was bad yesterday morning. That's when I was at the movie theater. But in the afternoon, the weather was fantastic, so I went to the beach.
A OK, tell me. Who were you with?
T No one. I was alone.
A Come on. I want to know.
T Oh, I can't tell you. It's a secret.
A I knew it! You weren't alone!

PRONUNCIATION p. 33

Y=Yan E=Elena

Y Hi, Elena. What do you usually wear to a party? Marisa's party is tonight.
E Oh, I always wear jeans. How about you, Yan?
Y Well, I usually wear my green skirt.
E You like that green skirt a lot. But why don't you wear your new black dress? And anyway, a dress is more stylish than a skirt.
Y Do you think so? I don't know. I don't have the right shoes for that dress.
E Yes, you do. How about your red sneakers?
Y Really? Red sneakers don't look good with a black dress! I need something nicer.
E Well, OK. Do you want to wear my high heels?
Y Really? Thanks, Elena! Your high heels are much nicer than my sneakers. So, I'll wear my new black dress and your high heels. How about you?
E Well, maybe I'll wear my white jeans.
Y They're great, but you always wear them.
E I don't always wear them.
Y OK, you usually wear them. Why don't you wear a dress tonight? You look good in a dress.
E But jeans are more comfortable than dresses.
Y Don't you have any other clothes to wear?
E No, not really. Well, I have my new blue pants.
Y Yes, they're really nice.
E But my blue pants aren't as nice as my white jeans! So, I'll wear my white jeans tonight.
Y I'm not surprised!

PRONUNCIATION p. 42

1. Y Well, I usually wear my green skirt?

D=Dana C=Cesar

D So, Cesar, what's new?
C Well, Dana, my brother is coming to see me. His plane gets here in two hours.
D That's nice. I don't know your brother. What's his name?
C His name is Tonio.
D What does he look like?
C Well, he doesn't look like me. He isn't short and fit. He's tall and heavy, and he has curly brown hair. Oh, and Tonio loves clothes. He's much more stylish than I am.
D What does he do?
C Tonio has a great job. He works in an office, but he flies all over the world for business.
D Wow. That's interesting! Where does he live?
C Right now, he's living in Chile.
D Chile? Wow! What is he like?
C He's like me. He's friendly. He's funny. He's shy ...
D You're funny? And shy?
C No. Actually, Tonio's very smart and really confident.
D What is he doing here?
C He's coming for vacation, and he's staying with me for a week.
D He's here for an entire week? That's nice. What does he like to do?
C Well, he likes playing computer games and listening to music. And Tonio loves sports, especially basketball. Tomorrow we're going to the big game. I got tickets!
D Do you have an extra ticket for the game tomorrow? I love basketball, and I'd like to meet your brother, too!

PRONUNCIATION p. 47

Listening p. 52

A Good morning. Welcome to the New York Visitors Center. Can I help you?
B Yes, please. What can I do here in New York?
A Oh, there are many things to do here. What are you interested in?
B Well, I want to see some famous places, walk around the city, and go shopping, of course.
A OK. Let's start with shopping. Are you looking for souvenirs or clothes?
B Clothes, definitely. Designer clothes.
A There are many places to find designer clothes. There's Fifth Avenue. There's Madison Avenue ...
B Oh, that sounds expensive. I don't want to buy expensive clothes. Is there a cheaper place?
A Well, you can go to Woodbury Commons. It's a shopping mall with lots of discount designer stores. The clothes are cheaper there.
B Cheap designer clothes ... That's just what I want.
A It's a great place, but it's about one hour from New York.
B One hour? I can't go there. That's too far. Can you tell me somewhere a little nearer?
A Yes, I can. Century 21 is a large discount store. It's only about 30 minutes from here.
B Can I also buy gifts there? You know, souvenirs?
A At Century 21? You can. But for really good souvenirs, you can go to Times Square.
B Times Square ... What else can I do there?
A Well, at Times Square ...

PRONUNCIATION p. 52

1. A Good morning. Welcome to the New York Visitors Center. Can I help you?

L=Luis M=Mara

L What are you doing tonight, Mara?
M I'm going out to dinner with my parents. It's my mother's birthday.
L That's nice. How old is she?
M Well, my dad's 50, so she's um ... 48. Hey, Luis, I wanted to ask you. Are there any good restaurants downtown? I want to try something new. I'm tired of the ones around here.
L Yeah, there are lots of good restaurants downtown. There's a new Brazilian restaurant on Main Street. It's very good.
M On Main Street?
L Yes, it's across from the department store. Men need to wear a suit and tie, though.
M Oh, I don't know. That sounds expensive. Are there any cheaper restaurants downtown?
L Hmm, there's a cheaper restaurant on Green Street.
M Where on Green Street?
L It's near the bookstore. It's my favorite restaurant. It's a Japanese place with great sushi.
M Oh, I know that place. It's next to the movie theater, right? But my parents don't really like sushi, and it's not my favorite food.
L They don't like sushi? That's my favorite food!
M No, I'm sorry, they don't. Do you have any more ideas?
L Hmm, so you're looking for a really good restaurant ...
M Well, I want a nice restaurant that's not too expensive.
L OK, I have one more idea for you. It's not downtown, though. It's around here. There's a nice Thai restaurant ten minutes away.
M There's a Thai restaurant around here? Where is it?
L Do you know the coffee shop on Park Street? It's near there.
M A coffee shop on Park Street? No, I don't.
L Well, you know where the shopping mall is, right? The Thai restaurant is around the corner from the shopping mall.
M Great! We can eat Thai tonight! OK, so the Thai restaurant is around the corner from the shopping mall, near a coffee shop.
J Yes, that's right. I think your parents will really like it there.
M I think so, too, and it's near the house. I like that! Thanks!

PRONUNCIATION p. 61

1. M On Main Street?
   L Yes, it's across from the department store.
2. M Where on Green Street?

J=Jamie E=Eli

J Hi, Eli. Where were you last week? I didn't see you at the gym.
E Don't you remember, Jamie? I was on vacation.
J Oh, yeah. How was it?
E It was awesome! I didn't want to come home!
J Where did you go?
E I went to Vancouver, Canada, with my sister, Sally. You know her, right?
J Of course, I know Sally. So tell me. How was the weather there?
E It was terrific. It didn't rain once while we were there.
J Oh, that's good. What did you do there?
E We did so many things. First of all, I climbed a big mountain!
J Where did you climb a mountain? Are there mountains near Vancouver?
E Yeah, there are many right near the city!
J That's great. What else did you do?
E Well, Sally and I visited some amazing art galleries. Sally bought a great photo.
J Did you buy anything from the art galleries?
E No, I didn't. I lost Sally's photo, too.
J What? How did you lose it?
E I don't know! I think I left it in the hotel. She was really angry with me! Anyway, I also spent time on the beach.
J How was that?
E Nice. The water was very cold, so I just sat on the beach, read a book, and listened to the water. It was very relaxing. I went swimming every day though—in the hotel swimming pool! Oh, and I almost forgot! On the last day, my sister and I took a walking tour of the city. Vancouver really is a great place.
J Sounds interesting! Did you buy any souvenirs?
E Yes, I did. Lots of them! Oh, but, um ...
J Well, where's mine!
E Sorry. I think I left them in the hotel with the photo.

PRONUNCIATION p. 66

C=Cara M=Matt

C Hi, Matt, how's your new apartment?
M It's great, but the transportation in the city isn't.
C Really, what's wrong with it?
M Well, the nearest bus stop is ten blocks away. I have to walk a lot to get there.
C Aren't there any streetcars? They are usually convenient — and very clean!
M No, there aren't any streetcars, and there aren't any subways either.
C So how are you going to get around?
M I'm probably going to buy a small car.
C But aren't cars expensive?
M I'm going to buy a used one. My next door neighbor is going to move to Seattle, and he wants to sell his car.
C Well, why don't you buy a motorbike? They're cheaper than cars.
M Yes, but they're more dangerous, and it's very rainy here. By the way, where are you going to go on vacation this year?
C Do you remember Anita? She lived down the street? Well, she's living in Florida now, and I'm going to visit her. I'm going to fly to Miami, and then we're going to rent an SUV and go camping in the Everglades.
M You're going to go camping in the Everglades? What are you going to do there?
C We're going to take a lot of photos of birds. We're also going to go boating and hiking.
M Wow, maybe I'll drive there and meet you in the Everglades. It sounds like you're going to have a lot of fun!
C We certainly are!

PRONUNCIATION p. 71
